Acknowledgment

I have to start by thanking the almighty God for giving Caroline Gichimu (Sunday School Director), the divine idea of developing a curriculum that enables children to learn Christian principles and values in a simple yet effective way. You have been very instrumental in developing this curriculum from the idea generation to the manifestation of these books.

Many thanks to the Revival House Sunday school teachers who have worked tirelessly to support the children in their spiritual growth. You are truly a blessing.

This project would have been impossible without the inspiration and support of the church leaders and the parents at Revival House. No words can fully express how grateful I am to you.

Special appreciation to Stephen Kiriungi Kamore, co-ordinator, Counselling Research Institute of Kenya, (www.crikeonline.org) for the professional input in researching, writing and editing the course book. Your dedication in writing children friendly learning material is outstanding. You have truly made our church dream come true, be blessed for the unique ministry God has given you.

Special thanks to Tim Nzuna for the great work in organizing and designing the book covers.

Introduction

Proverbs 22:6

“Train up a child in the way he should go, when he is old he will not depart from it”

As this scripture clearly admonishes us, it is in childhood that crucial spiritual development occurs so getting biblical facts straight and implementing viable applications that will effectively reach our young ones with the truth is extremely important. It is how they filter through and understand the world around them.

As you can all attest, there is only so much time to instil important truths before they are thrown into the arena of life. That is why we truly thank God for the team that has worked tirelessly to prepare this curriculum. As Moses’ mother prepared a basket that was capable to withstand the turbulence of river Nile, I believe that this curriculum will be a trusted anchor for our children as they navigate the affairs of life. Last but not the least, this curriculum with no shadow of doubt will help the children gain a healthy view of the church of Jesus Christ, especially in this age of so many conflicting doctrines.

I am blessed to have so many great things in my life – family, friends and God. All will be in my thoughts daily.”
